

AYTTO joins IBM's Employee Charitable Contribution Campaign

New York City – August 31st. American Youth Table Tennis Organization is pleased to announce that it has been accepted into IBM's Employee Charitable Contribution Campaign (ECCC) for 2009. The 2009 ECCC opens for IBM employees on October 1st.

"American Youth Table Tennis offers a unique and challenging program for inner city children. Through the international sport of table tennis, we teach teamwork, fitness, commitment, to hundreds of inner city children each year. We are very pleased to be a part of IBM's employee culture of giving to needy charities", commented Ben Nisbet, Director of AYTTO.

Over the last five years, IBM employees nationwide have contributed nearly $170 million to their non profits of choice as part of the ECCC. The ECCC is a voluntary, employee-driven fund-raising event that offers IBM employees the opportunity to contribute to not profits.

American Youth Table Tennis, is now one of more than 4,500 non profits IBM employees can contribute to.
